C123.M Ethics in Integrated Care Beginning Level for All (BA)

Date/Time:

Wednesday, August 30, 2023; 9 am – 4 pm (lunch break 12 – 1 pm)

Location:

Live Interactive Webinar via Zoom

Please see Live Interactive Webinar Requirements and Instructions for additional details

Course Description:

This course is appropriate for professionals who work in a multidisciplinary setting, with a specific focus on social workers and substance use professionals. Throughout the course, participants will explore how personal and societal morals impact professional ethics and decision making. The evolution of ethics within the social work field will be examined and compared to current ethical issues that professionals deal with daily. As many helping professionals are now working in integrated settings and hold multiple certifications, Codes of Ethics from a variety of disciplines will be reviewed. Interactive technology will be used to practice skills and encourage discussions. Time will be spent applying theories of ethics, decision making models, and applicable codes of ethics to simulate the complexity of ethical dilemmas through multiple case studies.

Course Facilitators:

Taylor Pettit-Rademaker, LMSW, CAADC is the Manager of Development and Training at Cherry Health. She has been with Cherry Health since 2013 and previously worked as both a therapist and case manager within integrated health clinics. In addition, she provided outpatient therapy in a private practice setting.

Course Objectives:

- A. Explain the historical evolution of ethics in Social Work
- B. Distinguish the values, principles, and professional responsibilities for specific codes of ethics
- C. Determine one difference in ethical standards within an integrated care setting
- D. Apply two models of ethical decision making to an ethical dilemma
- E. Identify the Ethical Code(s) for which you're responsible to adhere
